THE WHECK OF THE STEAMER SCOTLAND.

THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—
Your residers are aware that the wreck of the cotiand has for more than two years rendered the avigation of one of the most important channels brough which vessels pass to the harbor of New York very dangerous, and that several wrecks have courred from striking some portion of the Scotland, it vessels have been grounded by being compelled o seek other channels. The Scotland in measurement and tongers it is believed, was the largest iron ging. To remove this wreck exhaustive efforts have been made by indi. "duals and companies for the last two years, with but little apparent success. Last spring Congress appropriated on aundred thousand dollars for the removal of the wreck. The Neptune Submarine Company of New York were awarded the contract by Major General Newton for the accomplishment of the work. This company is an association of gentlemen of wealth and induence, under the immediate management of their President, Major General Joseph Hayes, who commenced active operations for the removal of the wreck by the purchase and refitting with a powerful derrick of the steamer Truxton. The steamer and all the wrecking operations are warked under the immediate command of Captain William L. Churchill. The electrical and submarine explosions used were invented and constructed by Colonel George W. Beardslee, electrician and engineer, and are operated under his immediate supervision and direction. The results obtained by two submarine explosions (the last of which was made on Thursday, December 31) have proved effective to a degree exceeding all former calculations, the two otherses, it has been ascertained by actual soundings and the examinations made by divers, having to the extent of one-half the fength of the Scotland (the forward portion over 200 feet) been effectually removed, giving a depth of water in many places several feet deeper than before the wreck occurred. The work already accomplished has fully demonstrated that two or three more explosions will effectually removed, giving a depth of water in many places several feet deeper than before the the work occurred. The work already accomplished has fully demonstrated that two or three more explosions will effectually removed all that now remains of the Scotland to mean and summerical and sufficient appropriations for the removal of Hell Gate obstructions and all others which impede or render the appropriations for the removal of the billions of property which is daily exposed to destruction, and

A THERD TRIAL FOR MURDER.—Sheriff Webb, of Rutherford county, yesterday brought to the city a negro named Lucius Witt, convicted of murdering another named Sam Cunningham in Rutherford county some time since. He was delivered over to the jailor in this city to await his trial before the Supreme Court. He has already had two trials before an inferior court and was found guilty each time. A new trial was granted at the first, and at the last an appeal taken to the Supreme Court.—Nashville Union, Dec. 29.
